Kathi welcomed everyone to the last board meeting of the year and gave an overview of what would be discussed at the meeting and expressed a desire to build community. Gia welcomed and reflected on Envision’s current growth and accomplishments. She gave an overview of student defenses and Envision Learning Partners’ support of Oakland and San Francisco Unified school districts. She stated that Envision is an anti-racist organization focused on equity. She spoke briefly about Envision United, Envision’s teacher’s union. Then of how Impact Academy grew to include a middle school and the accomplishments achieved. She shared that Envision Academy has the highest A – G graduation rates for Black students in the City of Oakland. Gia spoke about how OUSD’s offer of facilities through the Prop 39 process has caused distress in the West Oakland Middle School community, but Envision does not have any other space to house its students. Gia stated that Envision is here to listen, to be in partnership, and slowly earn the trust of that community. She reached out principal of West Oakland Middle School and attended community meetings in West Oakland.

III. Public Comment / Announcements
Christie Blakely introduced herself as a teacher at WOMS and stated she was heartened to hear Gia’s comments. Ms Blakely spoke about her experience sharing the WOMS campus with KIPP and asked Envision to not seek additional space or limit their stay at the WOMS location to one year.
Judy Brule commented via phone. Mrs. Brule, introduced herself as a long-term Oakland resident who has had two students go through WOMS. She shared her support of Ms Blakely’s comments.

Kathi thanked both for their public comments.

VII. Schools
  • Marjorie opened with a reflection that we have fewer expulsion hearings this year, significantly down from previous years. Restorative justice is working, and she applauds all the efforts toward equity and inclusion.
• Laura stated that this is the last week of instruction, followed by 2 weeks of professional development for teachers.
• Laura discussed how Impact is using PBIS (Positive Behavioral Supports and Interventions) and how best practices will be shared throughout the network for the 19-20 school year.
• Gia detailed how much the suspension rates have lowered in each school
• Laura discussed the three new principals in the network, giving some background on Jessica Fyles at Envision Academy Middle Grades, Phillip Chardon at City Arts and Tech, and Manuschka Michaud at Envision Academy. All five principals at all our schools are internally promoted candidates.
• Mark Daoust asked about the need for three new principals. Laura responded that EAMG is new, the CAT principal transitioned to lead the Alder Teacher Residency Program in partnership between Envision and Lighthouse and Eve Gordon chose to take a different position in OUSD.
• Laura discussed the college acceptance rates and Envision’s focus on key actions to bring the 4-year college acceptance rate back up to 80%.
• Laura and the board engaged in conversations around college-going and persistence rates of Envision students
• Laura and the board engaged in a discussion around the math priority and what Envision is doing now in the area of curriculum. Justin added that the curriculum we are using for much of our scope and sequence was in part created by members of the SCALE, now ELP, team and how that body of knowledge is invaluable.
• Laura detailed the racial affinity group work happening at Envision. Gia let the board know that the folks who are involved in a racial affinity group have a higher retention rates than the rest of the organization.
